Welcome from the EADV President

Dear Colleagues, Dear Friends,

As President of the European Academy of Dermatology and Venereology (EADV), I am delighted to welcome you to the EADV Spring Symposium, which will take place in Athens from 7–9 May 2026.

The EADV Spring Symposia occupy a distinctive place within our scientific calendar, reflecting our commitment to European inclusiveness while offering an in-depth focus on key dermatological and venereological topics. For 2026, we have chosen the inspiring setting of Athens, a city universally regarded as the cradle of Western civilisation, where scientific inquiry, medicine, and philosophy first flourished. This historic backdrop provides a fitting environment for scientific exchange and reflection on the evolution of medical knowledge.

The Symposium will be hosted at the Megaron Athens, a unique venue in the heart of the city, renowned for its outstanding facilities, striking architecture, and state-of-the-art technology, with the capacity to welcome up to 6,000 delegates in an optimal scientific setting.

As every year, the EADV Spring Symposium offers an exceptional opportunity for professional networking and knowledge sharing, bringing together healthcare professionals dedicated to advancing skin and venereal health. The dynamic three-day programme is carefully designed to meet the needs of both early-career dermatologists and venereologists, as well as experienced specialists.

The scientific programme, curated by the newly appointed Scientific Programming Chair Professor Lidia Rudnicka and leading experts, will cover a broad spectrum of topics through a carefully selected range of sessions. Two outstanding Plenary Lectures will be highlights of the meeting: Professor Nektarios Tavernarakis (Heraklion, Greece) will demonstrate the novel mechanisms of ageing to new therapeutic interventions, while Dr. Lydia Trakatelli (Athens, Greece) will take us on a fascinating journey through Beauty and dermatology practices in Ancient Greece, bridging historical perspectives with contemporary practice..

I warmly invite you to join us in Athens for what promises to be an enriching scientific and cultural experience, where tradition and innovation meet, and where knowledge, collaboration, and inspiration come together.

I look forward to welcoming you personally in Athens.

Με εκτίμηση,

Prof. Branka Marinović
EADV President

Welcome from the EADV Scientific Programming Committee

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

On behalf of the Scientific Programming Committee, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the 2026 EADV Symposium in Athens, Greece.

This year's scientific programme will highlight the most recent advances in dermatology across a wide range of clinical areas, featuring more than 25 sessions and over 100 distinguished speakers. The opening day will include two keynote lectures: "From novel mechanisms of ageing to new therapeutic interventions" presented by Nektarios Tavernarakis, Professor of Molecular Systems Biology at the Medical School of the University of Crete, and "Beauty and dermatology practices in Ancient Greece" presented by Lydia Trakatelli, from the Acropolis Museum in Athens.

The program is organized into three thematic tracks, each offering a distinct educational format:

- Track One will focus on in depth "Focus on" sessions, dedicated this year to Hair Disorders and Paediatric Dermatology.*
- Track Two will present "What's New" sessions, covering recent developments in bullous diseases, atopic dermatitis, acne, skin cancer, and sexually transmitted infections. The joint session with IUSTI on the final day will be a particular highlight.*
- Track Three will offer interactive, case based learning through quiz style sessions, allowing participants to test their diagnostic and clinical reasoning skills in dermoscopy, trichoscopy, aesthetics, inflammatory dermatoses, and additional areas. The popular "Local residents quiz the international faculty" session will once again challenge experts with complex clinical scenarios prepared by dermatology residents.*

Authors who submitted highest rated abstracts will have the opportunity to present their work during the Free Communications sessions.

We look forward to welcoming everyone to Athens.

Prof. Lidia Rudnicka
Chair of the Scientific
Programming Committee

EADV Scientific Programming Committee:

The Academy

EADV is committed to building the international community that develops, shares, and adopts best practices within dermatology and venereology.

With over 13'000 members and an active community of more than 20'000 professionals around the world, our goal is to be the trusted source for proven scientific advancements and practices in the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of skin and venereal diseases.

Skin and venereal diseases are continuously evolving, as are the science and practices for preventing, diagnosing, and treating them. Advancements are being made every day that have the potential to have a significant impact on the ongoing battle to improve skin and sexual health around the world. Enabling these advancements to be validated and ensuring all professionals adopt the best practices ultimately moves dermatology and venereology forward.

EADV and its international community of passionate professionals define and spread best practices in dermatology and venereology for the benefit of all. We are a true platform for collaboration and progress across borders and sub-specialties.

Expert task forces shape standards and develop best practice guidelines, while our events, publications, and educational courses share them with our members and the broader community so they can adopt them for maximum impact.

EADV Vision

drives the future of dermatology and venereology by leading progress, empowering a diverse professional community, improving patient care and setting new standards of excellence across Europe and beyond.

EADV Mission

advancing care, education, and research in dermatology and venereology by connecting professionals and fostering innovation worldwide, through events and education opportunities.

Continuing Medical Education – Continuing Professional Development (CME-CPD)

The EADV Symposium 2026, Athens, 07/05/2026 - 09/05/2026, has been accredited by the European Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (EACCME®) with 14.5 European CME credits (ECMEC®s).

CME credits

Each medical specialist can claim only those hours of credit actually spent in the educational activity (as recorded by the scanning process or online access).

Here below please find the breakdown of credits per day:

Thursday, 7 May 2026	4 credits
Friday, 8 May 2026	6 credits
Saturday, 9 May 2026	4.5 credits

The accreditation system is based on 1 ECMEC per hour.

Procedure to gain your credits

Scan your badge, complete the evaluation forms and download the CME-CPD Certificate.

The EADV offers individual CME-CPD participation through scanning the bar code and completing the speaker/session evaluation, which will be available until 31 August 2026.

1. Scan your badge as you pass through the entrance of each session hall, and your data will be transmitted to the system (or access the online session on demand).
2. Complete the anonymous online evaluation for each attended session. Access the evaluation system in the “My Area” section on the online Symposium platform.
3. Download your CME-CPD certificate and retain it for your personal records.

Evaluation data is essential to our statistics and is of considerable help in the choice of future topics and speakers. Your feedback and comments are greatly appreciated.

Conversion of Credits

Through an agreement between the Union Européenne des Médecins Spécialistes and the American Medical Association, physicians may convert EACCME® credits to an equivalent number of AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Information on the process to convert EACCME® credit to AMA credit can be found at <https://edhub.ama-assn.org/pages/applications>.

Live educational activities, occurring outside of Canada, recognised by the UEMS-EACCME® for ECMEC®s are deemed to be Accredited Group Learning Activities (Section 1) as defined by the Maintenance of Certification Program of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.

Information regarding the conversion of EACCME® credits

Credit will be converted based on one (1) hour of participation equalling one credit for all activities. Physicians wishing to convert EACCME® credits to AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ will be required to access the AMA website at <https://edhub.ama-assn.org/pages/applications> to obtain the necessary paperwork and instructions. Physicians and other health care professionals will be required to pay a processing fee to the AMA.

For other countries, please contact the relevant national/regional accreditation authority.

Scientific Programme

The scientific programme is organised on full or half-day tracks; each track has a specific topic and a structured programme.

Session types

Sessions of different formats will cover the important fields of dermatology and venereology. Subjects will be treated with different approaches and from different perspectives. The following session tracks will be scheduled throughout the duration of the Symposium and are available to all registered participants.

- Plenary sessions: Plenary lectures are EADV showcase sessions and include keynote lectures delivered by eminent scientists and doctors.
- Focus on: These sessions aim to provide comprehensive, in-depth coverage of a specific dermatology topic. The talks will be included in sessions on pathophysiology / epidemiology, clinical challenges, or practical aspects of disease management and will provide the latest cutting-edge information.
- What's new: These sessions will enable participants to update their knowledge on a specific topic and hear about the most relevant and recent developments, guidelines and practical knowledge from the past year. The talks will summarise the current understanding of the subject, followed by an update on the most recent novelties with their impact on clinical practice.
- Interactive clinical cases: These lectures focus on a specific disease and include basic information about epidemiology, pathophysiology, diagnosis, management and prognosis. The target audience of these sessions is young dermatology trainees and residents, as well as dermatologists who want to refresh their basic knowledge on specific topics. The topic of each presentation should be developed from clinical cases and include clinical photographs. The main objective is to provide the audience clues for differential diagnosis and disease management in their daily practice. Each presentation is supposed to be interactive, with multiple-choice question made to the audience in accordance with the subjects treated in the talks. Each speaker will be asked to include 2-3 questions by "data" along with the different answers' options.
- Free communications: Authors of the most highly-ranked abstracts assessed by a selected panel of abstract reviewers are invited to provide a 10-minute oral presentation.

Scientific information

Official language

English is the official language of the Symposium. No simultaneous translation will be provided at any EADV scientific session.

Session access

Seating is allocated on a first-come, first-served basis. We advise you to arrive at the session room well in advance of the session to secure your seat. Due to safety regulations, organisers will close access to the session once all seats are taken. Delegates are not allowed to stand in the aisles of the session rooms.

The use of mobile phones, as well as audio and video recording devices, is strictly prohibited within the scientific session rooms. Please ensure that you have your mobile phone switched off when attending a session. Photography is not permitted.

Abstracts and ePosters

Accepted abstracts will be made publicly available on our website after the event has ended: eadv.org/scientific/abstract-books/

Abstracts selected for ePosters will be published as electronic posters during the Symposium and will be available for viewing in the ePoster area, on level -1 of the Megaron Conference Centre.

Fifteen viewing screens are provided and configured exclusively to display the ePosters.

The ePosters can be viewed sequentially by number, submission topic or searched individually by title, keyword, or author.

Certificates and accreditation

All registered participants will be able to download their certificates online based on their level of engagement:

- A Certificate of Attendance is available for all registered participants who have a valid registration badge and attended at least 1 session
- A CME-CPD Certificate is available for all participants who actively attended scientific sessions, had their badge scanned and completed the online evaluation forms
- An ePoster Certificate is available for all leading ePoster authors
- An Oral presentation Certificate is available for all presenters of an abstract accepted for an oral presentation
- A Speaker Presentation Certificate is available for all presenters who have delivered a lecture in a scientific session.

Certificates are not sent out automatically. They can be downloaded from our platform by entering the email address and password used during the registration process or the EADV member log-in details (if a EADV member).

EADV Symposium Ticket

The EADV Spring Symposium Ticket includes:

- Name badge
- Admission to EADV Scientific Sessions
- Access to the ePosters area
- Admission to the Networking Symposium on Thursday 7 May 2026
- Access to the Exhibition hall - only Healthcare professionals and Non Members (INDUSTRY)
- Access to Satellite Symposia Sessions *
- Eligibility to claim ECMEC Credits for participating in live Scientific Sessions

IMPORTANT: Industry Session organisers could limit participation to certain representative groups independently from EADV recommendations if deemed imperative to the achievement of the intended purpose of the industry session. The organising company reserves the right to refuse single categories, in particular if not adequately related to the objective and purpose of the session.*

A 1-Day Ticket is only valid for 1 of the 3 days of the Symposium and is limited to one ticket per participant.

Name Badge

Registered participants are invited to print out their badge at the self-printing machines on arrival at the registration area. The name badge is the official EADV Symposium identification document and should be worn at all times in order to gain entry to the various Symposium areas.

The name badge is your ticket for booked activities and sessions. Admission to other areas of the venue is not permitted without badge identification.

The badge includes a QR-code containing your full address and email. It is the participant's decision to disclose these details to the Industry Session's organisers with a scanner.

Privacy

Use of private data

The data made available through the Registration Portal for Congresses and Symposia are gathered and treated by the EADV in compliance with the Swiss regulation on data protection and the General Data Protection Regulation. We advise you to read the full EADV Privacy Policy on eadv.org/privacy-policy.

Transferring the data to the industry session organiser

During the EADV Congress, you have the right to transfer the data collected by EADV to another controller ("the Industry session organiser", "Industry"). It may occur through scanning a badge, QR code, or other means at any industry session at the Congress, the participant authorises the EADV to transfer the participant's data to the Industry.

The EADV is obliged to make this process possible, but does not take any responsibility for what happens with the data after it is transferred to the Industry session organiser. We advise making sure that the Industry presents a Privacy Policy and read it carefully. Purposes described by the Industry Exhibitor might include the promotion of pharmaceutical products and similar.

Transfer of the data from the EADV to the exhibiting Industry does not mean the removal of original data from EADV. If you wish for the data to be removed or have any requests or questions, please contact us at any time by writing to eadvoffice@eadv.org.

Third-party registration

The EADV does not officially support or authorise any third-party organisation that creates registrations for individuals or groups. We strongly advise registering accordingly to official fees and only on the EADV official websites.

Liability disclaimer

The Organisers cannot be held liable for any hindrance or disruption to the EADV Symposium arising from political, social or economic events or any other unforeseen incidents beyond their control. The Organisers will accept no liability for any personal injuries sustained or for loss or damage to property belonging to Symposium participants, either during or as a result of the Symposium or during all tours and events. Registration of a participant entails acceptance of these conditions.

Networking Symposium

Join us to celebrate the start of the 2026 EADV Symposium and participate in the first plenary lecture of this year's edition.

The opening plenary lecture will be preceded by a welcome address from EADV President, Prof. Branka Marinović, who will officially kick off the 2026 EADV Symposium. Following her remarks, the evening will continue with outstanding Plenary Lectures.

To conclude the evening, join us for a networking reception starting at 18:30 at the Atrium of the Muses, on level 0 of the Megaron Conference Centre, for an excellent opportunity to connect with colleagues and speakers in a relaxed setting.

Healthcare Professional information and definition

1. Important note to Healthcare and Non-Healthcare Professionals

Access to the different areas and sessions of the Symposium is determined by the attendee's Healthcare Professional status.

As a multidisciplinary audience will attend the EADV Congress, the EADV will assign different classes to Healthcare Professionals (HCPs) and Non-Healthcare Professionals (non-HCPs) to ensure compliance with the Hellenic Association of Pharmaceutical Companies (SFEE's Promotion Code) (CODE OF ETHICS & PARTNERSHIPS | SFEE).

Please read the description below to ensure that you (or your delegates) comply with the regulations in place.

EADV members are not automatically considered Healthcare Professionals.

Please select the correct status (HCP or non-HCP) during registration.

2. HCP Definition

The SFEE code defines Healthcare Professionals as follows (Definitions, page 6): "any natural person who is identified as a healthcare professional in the applicable legislation¹ and whose primary practice or principal professional address is in Greece and who, in the course of his/her professional activities, may prescribe, purchase, supply, recommend or administer medicinal products.

It is explicitly clarified that the very broad subset of Healthcare Professionals who are not legally entitled to prescribe, supply or administer medicinal products, but nevertheless belong to the category of Healthcare Professionals, are not considered as the general public. In this sense, product promotions at scientific event venues where such persons may be present are not prohibited.

In the context of the national cancer policy, the speciality of pathologists is also explicitly included in this definition.

To avoid any doubt, the term "Healthcare Professional", with the exception of Chapter 1 hereof, also includes:

- a. any official or employee of a government agency or other organisation (whether in the public or private sector) who may prescribe, purchase, supply, recommend or administer Medicinal Products; and
- b. any employee of a Pharmaceutical Company whose primary occupation is that of a practising HCP (e.g. medical doctor, nurse, dentist, etc.).

However, the definition excludes:

- i. all other full-term personnel (whether HCPs or not) of a PC under an employment contract, professional service contract or independent work contract; and
- ii. wholesalers or distributors of Medicinal Products."

Article 4 of Law 4238/GG A, 38/17.02.2014, characterises the following persons as Healthcare Professionals (HCPs): family physicians and physicians of other specialties, dentists and other healthcare professionals such as midwives, health visitors, nurses, social workers, physiotherapists, dietitians/nutritionists, psychologists, occupational therapists, medical laboratory technologists, medical and biological laboratory assistants, medical equipment operators.

➔ Medical students are not considered Healthcare Professionals under the current guidelines and will be automatically classified as Non-Healthcare Professionals.

3. Industry sessions

Satellite Symposia presenting data on the development, research, or other issues related to prescription medicine is restricted to Professionals and Non-Member (INDUSTRY) as indicated by the Industry Session Organiser.

All promotional materials and marketing aids related to these industry sessions should be strictly limited to HCPs.

Industry Session organisers can limit participation to certain representative groups independently from the EADV recommendations if deemed imperative to achieving the session's intended purpose. The organising company reserves the right to refuse single categories, particularly if they are not adequately related to the session's objective and purpose.

The industry session organiser is responsible for compliance with the session

EA SYMPOSIUM
DV 2026

ATHENS, GREECE
7 - 9 MAY

Exhibition and Industry Sessions

Exhibition

As an integral part of the EADV Symposium 2026, the exhibition will take place on Level -2 of the Megaron Conference Centre and will serve as a central forum for industry to network and conduct exchanges with the Healthcare Professionals.

The exhibition area will be open during the following hours:

- Thursday 7 May 13:00 – 17:30
- Friday 8 May 9:00 – 17:30
- Saturday 9 May 9:00 – 12:00

Visit the EADV Symposium website to view the exhibition floorplan.

- ➔ Please note that the exhibition hall is open to Healthcare Professionals (HCPs) only, as prescription medical products will be advertised.

Industry sessions

Industry sessions programme

The satellite symposia will offer a unique opportunity to connect with key thought leaders, access information on emerging science, new products and innovative approaches on a wide range of current medical topics.

Four satellite symposia are organised between 7 and 8 May 2026.

Please visit our EADV Symposium website to view the industry sessions programme.

Satellite symposia programme and faculty

The Industry Session organiser is solely responsible for keeping all its Industry Session activities compliant with all relevant laws and regulations. EADV is not involved with or has any control over the content, quality, organisation, operation, or scientific integrity of the activity and materials provided by the industries. EADV is not involved in the selection of speakers, moderators, and other faculty.

Access to satellite symposia

As a multidisciplinary audience will be attending the EADV Symposium 2026, please make sure to select the right category: Healthcare Professionals (HCPs) or Non-Healthcare Professionals (NON-HCPs), during the registration process.

Access to any Industry Sessions where data or research on prescription medicines is presented will be limited to Healthcare Professionals (HCPs) and Non-Members (INDUSTRY).

Industry Session organisers may limit participation to certain representative groups independently from EADV recommendations if deemed imperative to the achievement of the intended purpose of the Industry Session.
